

Software Freedom needs your help

Become an OFFICIAL

SUPPORTER

Conservancy must move to a Supporter-driven organization so we can focus on critical free software issues that nobody else is tackling. Stand up for the GPL, support great member projects, and make your voice heard in support of free software. Donate today!

Visit <http://sfconservancy.org>

Adult supervision required for using scissors :p

Install, try and use in your computer.

<https://www.debian.org/distrib>

Participate in Debian Popularity Contest Say "yes" at install time. It will help to choose packages for the first CD/DVD and to assess user-base for any package

<https://popcon.debian.org>

Found a bug? Report it! You can use the webpage or "reportbug" tool.

<https://www.debian.org/Bugs>

Do you like to write?

Write a manual, news, book or other materials that can help new users.

<https://www.debian.org/doc/ddp>

<https://www.debian.org/News/project>

Do you like to translate?

Translate Debian web pages, manuals or package descriptions.

<https://www.debian.org/doc/ddp>

<https://www.debian.org/devel/website>

<https://www.debian.org/international/I10n/ddtp>

Do you like to program?

Found a bug? Send a patch!

Adopt an orphaned package or start a packaging with a new software, alone or by joining in a team.

Read the technical documentation in the Developers' Corner, like New Maintainers'
Guide, Debian Policy Manual or Debian Developer's Reference.

<https://www.debian.org/Bugs>

<https://www.debian.org/Devel>

Do you like events?

Promote meetings, parties on special Debian days, or presentations about Debian at IT events in your city or country.
Join to Debian Day.

Produce T-shirts, banners, posters and others artwork to publicity of Debian Community.

<https://wiki.debian.org/Promote>

<https://wiki.debian.org/DebianDay>

Firsts steps (easy)

Debian
Non-developers

Participating more inside of Debian

Promoting Debian community

Collab Debian

Experimental platform Debian community to encourage collaboration.

Visit <http://collab.debian.net>

I see you in

DebConf
20Haifa

<https://debconf20.debconf.org>